Pocket Charts for Emergent Readers

Emergent readers (typically ages 3-6 years) need lots of practice reading familiar, predictable, memorized text. Use this pocket chart to practice pointing to the words and matching speech to print with one-to-one correspondence.

Goals:

- The students will demonstrate an understanding of print concepts.
- The students will track text from left to right.
- The students will use one-to-one correspondence.

After the text is memorized and the students have worked on this in class, send home the little emergent reader book for extra practice.
