Betsy
Visits a

Farmer's Market

One morning, Betsy's grandma decided she wanted to make homemade soup, so Betsy went to the farmer's market to get the freshest vegetables. |

@Play to Learn Preschool

A farmer's market is where local farmers sell their produce directly to shoppers, so Betsy knew she would find fresh veggies.

At the first farmer's table, Betsy chose the vegetables for Grandma's soup. She decided on carrots and zucchini.

At the next table, Betsy saw honey. The beekeeper had beehives on her farm where the honey is made.

After the beekeeper's table, Betsy went to the dairy farmer's table. She was selling fresh butter.

There was also fresh cheese for sale.

Finally, at the last table, Betsy saw her favorite food, berries!

Betsy had such a fun time at the farmer's market. She took the fresh food to her grandma's house and couldn't wait to have soup later that day. 9
