

Gingerbread Tracing Cards

These gingerbread themed writing cards make practicing letters and numbers fun and easy for little learners! Perfect for preschool and kindergarten, they give children plenty of hands-on practice with a simple, low-prep setup.

Learning Objectives:

Letter and Number Recognition – Students will identify uppercase and lowercase letters A-Z, numbers 0-10, and shapes reinforcing early literacy and numeracy skills through hands-on practice.

Pre-Writing and Fine Motor Development – Students will use proper stroke formation to trace and begin writing letters, numbers, and shapes strengthening hand coordination and pencil grip in preparation for independent writing.

Preparation:

- Print the pages on standard paper or cardstock for durability.
- Cut along the lines to create individual writing cards.
- Laminate the sheets for reuse or place them in dry-erase pockets.

How to Use:

Children use dry-erase markers to trace each uppercase and lowercase letter, as well as numbers 0-10, and 12 different shapes done, just wipe and try again for endless practice!

Other Fun Uses:

- Build the Letters, Numbers, & Shapes – Instead of tracing, students can form the letters, numbers, & shapes using manipulatives like mini erasers, pom-poms, or beads, reinforcing recognition and fine motor skills.
- Hands-On Letter Formation – Students use wax-coated Wikki Stix®, pipe cleaners, or playdough to shape letter and number shapes before using them for writing practice.
- Sensory Writing Practice – Place the cards under a clear sheet filled with hair gel or sand. Students can trace the letters and numbers with their fingers, promoting sensory exploration and early writing skills.

“The write-and-wipe feature is fantastic for allowing repeated practice without wasting paper.”
